COVID-19 EMERGENCY REGULATIONS – ALERT LEVEL 1

This Directive applies to race or trial meetings while the New Zealand Government’s Alert Level 1 prevails nationwide.

A full overview of New Zealand’s COVID-19 Alert Levels is provided via this link. Please familiarise yourself with this, and in particular the restrictions relating to Travel and Workplaces.

As a professional sport and industry, we must continue to prove that we can keep all participants safe and eliminate, or mitigate to the greatest possible extent, the risk of transmission of COVID-19.

The purpose of this Directive, and requirements on employers and workers (PCBUs):

The core principle behind this Directive is to protect the health and safety of all workers required to perform duties during the COVID-19 crisis, including related health and safety impacts on operations related to operating under a COVID-19 environment, as well as protecting the wider New Zealand population from transmission and spread of the virus. Another key principle is to maintain the WorkSafe three pillars of good work throughout all operations: leadership, risk management, and worker engagement as expressed below.

This Directive contains minimum measures that are necessary to mitigate or eliminate the risk of passing on the COVID-19 virus at a race meeting. These include:

- supporting people with flu-like symptoms to self-isolate;
- ensuring physical distancing as may be recommended by the Government;
- regular disinfecting of surfaces; and
- maintaining good hygiene, particularly hand hygiene and good cough/sneeze etiquette.

Trainers, Clubs, staff, RIU and other racing officials, and Jockeys are expected to work positively and cooperatively to ensure:

- the effective implementation of these minimum COVID-19 protocols, and
- that the health and safety of workers and other people aren’t put at risk from changes that are made to work arrangements because of this pandemic.

Notes:

- This directive has the effect of NZTR Rules of Racing and is binding on PCBU’s (as defined by the Health & Safety at Work Act, including racing clubs, racing officials (including RIU) and Trainers (and employees and contractors) and Jockeys.
- This directive is subject to any government regulations or requirements as relevant to COVID-19 Alert Level 1.

NZTR DIRECTIVE FOR COVID-19 ALERT LEVEL 1

This Directive may be updated by NZTR and re-released if the government announces substantive changes to the measures required under COVID Alert Level 1.
