New Zealand Thoroughbred Live Foals

NZTR analysis indicates that the thoroughbred foal crop will fall by just -1.2% from 4,066 in 2011-2012 to 4,018 in 2012-2013, with improved conception rates materially offsetting a -5.0% reduction in mares served in the comparative seasons.

Previous NZTR analysis reported "registered live foals" and failed to take into account live foals that had been DNA tested but not yet registered and live foals that were returned but not yet DNA tested or registered.

As at 31 July 2013:

- 3,676 foals have been registered by NZTR, compared to 4,028 2YO's and 4,171 3YO's;
- 224 foals have been DNA tested but not yet registered, compared to 46 2YO's and 20 3YO's;
- 215 foals have been "foal returned" but are yet to be DNA tested or registered, compared to 26 2YO's and zero 3YO's;
- NZTR estimates that 97 of the 439 currently unregistered foals are likely to be reported as "dead foals", with an estimated 34 of the 72 unregistered 2YO likely to be reported as "dead foals".

Pearl Series

NZTBA has advised that they have received 630 nominations for the 2013 Pearl Series from yearling fillies prior to 31 July 2013. Only unbroken 2YO's entered for the South Island Sale remain eligible to nominate for the 2013 Pearl Series.

Female Performance

In 2012-13 females horses provided 48.3% of flat race starters, producing 48.6% of wins.

Anabolic Steroids

The International Horses Racing Federation is proposing a total ban on the use of steroids for horses in training.

Currently all Asian jurisdictions (including Australian and New Zealand) except Japan, allow the use of anabolic steroids provided horses are presented drug free on race day.

At the most recent meeting of the Asian Racing Federation, Hong Kong, Singapore, Japan, India, South Africa and Dubai all indicated their support for the ban.

The Australian Racing Board is meeting on 12 September 2013 to finalise Australia's position. I understand that Australia is likely to support the ban.

NZTR will be meeting with representatives of the NZ Equine Veterinary Association, NZ Harness Racing and the NZ Trainers Association on 15 August 2013 to discuss the ramifications should Australia support the proposed ban.

The NZTR Board will consider the matter in September once the Australian position is known.

Racing Safety Development Fund (RSDF) Open for Applications

The next round of the RSDF is now open for applications. This Fund supports various projects that improve racecourse health and safety. Racing clubs should consider whether their facilities and equipment are safe for personnel, patrons and the racing animals.

All races from Ascot's Dubai Duty Free Shergar Cup featuring Lisa Allpress will be shown on Trackside this coming Sunday morning (NZ time).

The Dubai Duty Free Shergar Cup is Britain's premier jockeys' competition, a unique event where top jockeys in four teams - Great Britain & Ireland, Europe, the Rest of the World and The Girls - battle against each other in a thrilling six-race showdown.

Points are awarded on a 15, 10, 7, 5, 3 basis to the first five horses home (non runners score 4 points).

The Girls team comprises three of the finest female riders from across the globe. Rosie Napravnik (USA, Captain) is a Classic-winning jockey in her homeland, having taken the 2012 Kentucky Oaks on Believe You Can. The 25-year-old has ridden in excess of 1,600 winners and is best-known for riding Shanghai Bobby to victory in the 2012 Breeders' Cup Juvenile. Napravnik is joined by 38-year-old Lisa Allpress (New Zealand), the first female jockey to partner over 1,000 winners in New Zealand where she was the premierships winning jockey in the 2011/12 season, and Cathy Gannon (Ireland), Ireland's first female champion apprentice and twice female jockey of the year at The Lesters.

Riccarton Park Labour Weekend Enhanced

The Canterbury Jockey Club ('CJC') Labour Weekend racemeeting has been enhanced with three significant innovations.

Holloway (Builders) Stakes

The Listed Canterbury Stakes has undergone a name change and a significant stake increase to cement its place further as a key lead up to the Sothys New Zealand 2000 Guineas® and the New Zealand Bloodstock 1000 Guineas®.

Holloway Builders has joined the CJC's stable of sponsors resulting in a $20,000 stake increase for the 1600 metre three-year-old feature. The race will be run for $70,000 in 2013 with further increases planned for future runnings.

Christchurch Casino Spring Classic

The Christchurch Casino Spring Classic, a Listed open handicap over 2000 metres, has been shifted to Labour Weekend. The race has been held at the Club's meeting in early October since 2001. The move is designed to enhance the quality of its field to protect its Listed Status and provide an even more appealing pattern of staying races leading up to the 3200 metres of the 150th running of Christchurch Casino sponsored New Zealand Cup. The race will now sit two weeks prior to the 2500 metres of the Gold Club Metropolitan Handicap which is itself one week prior to the NZ Cup®. It will also, based on past programmes, be the only open handicap staying race in New Zealand that weekend.

Racing Saturday rather than Sunday

The 2013 renewal of the Labour Weekend Meeting will be held on the Saturday, 26 October, as opposed to Sunday, the day on which the meeting has been held in recent decades. Besides creating an exciting Saturday for punters with the premier meeting at Trentham and the Cox Plate meeting at Moonee Valley the move will be well received by industry stakeholders as it removes the clash at Riccarton Park with the popular Riccarton Rotary Sunday Market.

CD Trials Venue Change - Tuesday 13 August, Was Otaki Now Foxton
